SOUTHWEST CENTER SEMINAR SERIES

The Southwest Center is sponsoring a seminar series for the Spring semester which we have entitled "A General Introduction to Our Region". The seminars are aimed primarily at a group of Soviet exchange students who will be studying here but we see these as programs which will also appeal to the general University community, as well as to the Tucson community at large. Your attendance at any or all of the programs is cordially invited.

All the programs are scheduled on Wednesday afternoons at 4:00. Unless otherwise indicated, all programs will take place at our new quarters at 1052 North Highland Avenue, where we will be sharing a building with the Little Chapel of All Nations after February 1st.

January 24	Bernard L. Fontana	"A Capsule History of the Southwest"*
January 31	Thomas E. Sheridan	"History of Hispanic Tucson"*
February 7	Charles Bowden	"Frog Mountain Blues"
February 14	David Burckhalter	"The Seri Indians"
February 21	J. Jefferson Reid	"History of Southwest Archaeology"
February 28	William Hartmann	"The Pinacate Region of Northern Mexico"
March 7	Barbara Babcock	"Stories Told in Clay: Pueblo Figurative Ceramics"
March 21	James Griffith	"Southwest Folklore and Folk Arts"
March 28	Larry Evers	"Yaqui Easter"

*These two programs will be held in the Main Library, Room A313. All others will take place at 1052 North Highland.
